Canada and Farmers
A Great, Intelligent Land
Planes and Submarines
Valuable Is Man

—By Arthur Brisbane—

(Copyright 1927 by Blue Co.)

PRESIDENT COOLIDGE feels that our farmers are happier than they were, and many farmers seem to agree with him. On July 4th, the President and the country celebrated their birthdays together. President Coolidge is 53th the United States its 51st. The country is not quite three times as old as the President, which shows what a YOUNG country we are.

American farmers will be interested to hear that in Manitoba, Canadian farmers control wheat export to a big "pool" handling 300,000,000 bushels. The exporters that raised to wheat but got the profit have lost control, and farmers are getting a better price for their wheat. Perhaps our farmers will learn something from Canada.

Canada, by the way, seems prosperous than ever in her history, recently celebrated the Dominion's 50th birthday and now welcomes two royal princes. Everything is coming Canada's way, including the best selection of energetic, valuable immigrants from Europe, the kind this country needs, and steadily keeps up.

In 1900, Sir Wilfrid Laurier made this prophecy: "The nineteenth century was the United States century; the twentieth will be Canada's century."

The more Canada gains, the better we shall be pleased.

The twentieth century should produce gains for ourselves and our neighbor. Canada has one advantage. She knows that Great Britain is building air planes, intending to rule the AIR as she has long ruled the WATER.

And, unlike ourselves, the Canadians need not wonder what would HAPPEN to their prosperity if war broke out.

We are proud of our railroads in the United States. Canada has more miles of railroad per capita than any country in the world. Canadian farmers produced 15,000,000 bushels of wheat last year. They produced 410,000,000 bushels last year. We have a powerful, energetic nation north of us, and are glad of it. They are good peace-makers.

Canada will "take up the submarine question."

HOME BREWERS RAIDED UNDER 100-YR.-OLD LAW

Invoking the aid of a musty, irrelevant revenue law of more than half a century's standing, and which gives them the right to enter any suspected home and search it, Federal prohibition agents in Greater Boston have undertaken a dramatic drive against stills and home brew establishments operating in private dwellings.

The drive with the newly un-revoked "weapon" has been ordered by the United States District Attorney's office here, and the results obtained will have an important bearing on prohibition enforcement throughout the entire country.

Already 21 raids have been conducted in Malden under the provisions of the old law and scores more are planned.

The national prohibition laws, which have been in force since 1919, are as follows:

FOIL 2 ATTEMPTS TO WRECK B. & M. TRAINS

Two attempts to wreck Boston & Maine passenger trains, one in Arlington and the other near Bangor, Me., were frustrated in time to prevent probable serious consequences. Early today a Boston-bound passenger train, filled with commuters, crashed into a barricade of ties and shanks near the Arlington station. The train was going slowly at the time and the conductor of the engine forced the obstacles from the track without the engine or train being derailed.

The barricade was placed in such a manner that it slid off the tracks into the ditch when struck. The engineer immediately made an investigation and then proceeded with his train to the Arlington Center station where he made a report to the railroad authorities who in turn reported the matter to the Arlington police.

Detectives were immediately assigned to the case and their investigation is still underway. The attempt to wreck the express train was also reported.

WOOLAROC WITHIN 250 MILES OF GOAL

Honolulu, Aug. 17 (A.P.)—The Mutual Telephone Company received a message from Arthur C. Goebel at 8:35 a. m. (11 o'clock Pacific time) that the Woolaroc was 250 miles from Honolulu. Goebel is pilot of the Woolaroc. The message was received via the wireless station.

Wheeler Field, 35 miles from Honolulu, was surrounded by thousands of automobiles, and a crowd estimated at more than 15,000 impatiently waited to greet the flier.

Eight planes took off from Luke Field, used by the Army and Navy, in Pearl Harbor to escort the Dole flier to land.

Three other Dole planes were reported also approaching this island of Oahu in the contest for the prizes of $25,000 and $10,000, offered by James D. Dole for first and second planes to land in the 2,400-mile flight from Oakland, Calif., which began at noon yesterday. They were believed not far from the Woolaroc.

'OLD GLORY' ROME HOP HELD UP FOR REPAIRS

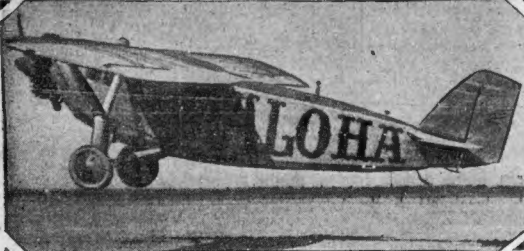

Roosevelt Field, N. Y., Aug. 17 (A.P.)—The start of the flight of the Old Glory to Rome was called off this afternoon when the bearings on the wheels became heated so the giant plane was taxiing down the course for a test flight.

Lloyd Brand and James D. Hild, the co-pilot, said it would take a couple of hours to repair the damage and it would then be too late to make the start. If weather conditions were favorable the projected flight will be made tomorrow at 8 p. m. Eastern standard time.

NAB SPEEDER IN 2-MILE CHASE IN CHELSEA

Pursued for two miles from North Shore road, Revere, Donovan H. Hall, twenty-one, of Dunster street, Cambridge, was arrested in Chelsea square today charged with operating an automobile while under the influence of liquor.

Hall was seen driving a five-year-old Buick at high speed by Patrolman Harry Gersmeyer of the Revere police on North Shore road. As he watched the officer saw Hall's machine strike a truck, swerve off and continue its mad career towards Chelsea.

The Chelsea police were notified and in the meantime an ambulance filled with Revere officers took up the chase. When Hall reached Chelsea the "wagon" was drawn up waiting for him, and he was placed under arrest by Officers Ahern and Gersmeyer, the latter being no relation to the Revere patrolman of the same name.

DROP KIDNAPING CHARGE AGAINST ELOPING ROMEO

George Laham, 19-year-old Romeo of West Roxbury, was freed of the charge of abducting his sweetheart, 19-year-old Eleanor Laham, daughter of a wealthy importer of Beacon road, Brighton, in Brighton court today.

John J. Hirsman, attorney for the girl's father, told the court the father wished to drop the case as there was "not sufficient evidence."

The court agreed.

The father had picked another young man as a husband for his daughter. The daughter objected and eloped to Connecticut, but marriage was frustrated by the father.

"I still love Eleanor and she still loves me, so I guess everything is going to be all right," the youth told reporters as he smilingly left the courtroom.

FRAUD ORDER BARS RUB BOOK FROM U. S. MAIL

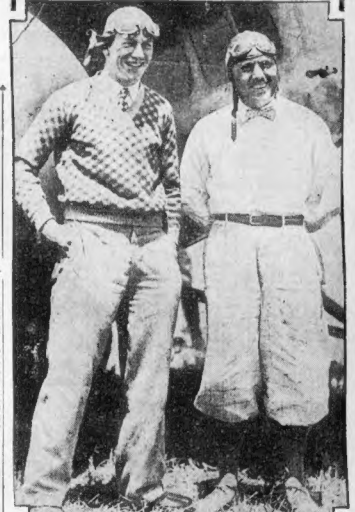

Washington, Aug. 17 (A.P.)—To protect Americans who might be induced to part with money on an apparently alluring secret process for rectification of raw spirits at a cost of only three cents a gallon for a book called "The Distillers and Blenders Practical Guide," Postmaster-General New has issued a fraud order against P. Hastings Malcolm, the Canadian Technical Equipment & Supply Co., and the Canadian Drug & Supply Co., Vancouver, B. C.

Postmasters at all Canadian border exchange postoffices were directed to return to sender all letters addressed to Malcolm and his company.

WORCESTER PASTOR DIES AT SCOUT CAMP

Worcester, Aug. 17 (A.P.)—Dr. James J. Howard, pastor of St. Peter's Church here for 15 years, died today in North Brookfield at the camp maintained for the Boy Scouts of his parish. Death came after a long illness.

Dr. Howard was born in North Brookfield Feb. 12, 1847, son of the late Eugene and Catherine Howard, who came to the United States from Ireland in 1847. Ordained to the priesthood in 1871, he was assigned to St. Peter's church in 1882. The following year he came to St. Peter's at Worcester.

SIGNS WARN OF DEATH

One of markers being placed by Boston Automobile Club at all spots where fatal auto accidents have occurred in Greater Boston. Miss Gertrude Lang, of "Half-a-Widow" company now playing at Shubert Theatre, is shown holding the sign. The markers are being placed in a campaign to cut down the appalling list of mishaps last year when 705 persons were killed and 25,000 injured in Massachusetts. The signs have a white cross at the top. The words "Autos Killed Here" are in big red letters. The number of persons killed at each spot will be inserted after the word "killed" on the signs.

Sioux Indians Hail 'Chief' Coolidge

Pine Ridge, S. D., Aug. 17 (A.P.)—Down on the plains of southwestern South Dakota near the Badlands, the Pine Ridge Reservation resounded with the beating of tom-toms and war whoops today as more than 7,000 Sioux Indians waited upon their ruler, Chief Leading Eagle, known variously as President Coolidge, War Bonnets and beaded garlands were headed out for the President's visit, and the program included all of the merry games and dances with which the Indians amused themselves long ago.

Leaving the famous White House early today, the President's trip called for heading a special train at Harpford for a four-hour run to Pine Ridge, Minn., just across the border, and from there, an hour's motor, to the reservation.

The President planned to speak directly upon his arrival and then there was in prospect a parade by 250 red-shirted chiefs in full regalia, to be followed by the celebrated snake dance, in which 100 Indian warriors were to participate.

Mrs. Coolidge and their son accompanied the President.

B. & M. BUYS TO BIG SWITCHING LOCOMOTIVES

The purchase of ten big switching locomotives by the Boston & Maine Railroad, among the most powerful in the service of American railroads, and intended for service in connection with President Hancock's program to speed up freight shipments in all directions, was announced today.

They are the first bought by the Boston & Maine Railroad in five years, and will be assigned for duty at the Boston & Maine's new classification yards at Mechanicville, N. Y., White River Junction, Vermont, Worcester, N. H., and Boston, and at Lowell, Lawrence, Deerfield, Salem and Springfield.

2 GIRLS DYING AFTER CRASH

West Peabody, Aug. 17—Two Lynn girls, pupils of St. Mary's Parochial School, are dying at St. B. Thomas Hospital, victims of a grade crossing auto crash at "Devil's Hairpin" here. There two motor companions are also at the hospital through less serious injuries.

The machine in which the two girls were riding was proceeding at high speed along Winona street in the direction of Lynn, and they did not see or hear the train or its bell until it was too late to avoid the grade crossing. The Boston & Maine struck the automobile while car and train were traveling at high speed.

Richard Spade, 14 years old, of 41 Beacon Hill avenue, Lynn, received a fractured left arm and shoulder, multiple cuts and probable internal injuries.

Edwin Charles Gove, 15, and Mary Gove, 16, of 309 Maple street, Lynn, were also injured.

Label Your City to Guide Fliers, Says Hoover

Washington, Aug. 17 (A.P.)—Secretary Hoover has asked all States to assist in labelling every city in the country as guides to aviators.

"It has been brought to my attention that painting of the city's name on the highest buildings of the respective towns in your State would be a distinct advantage and of great assistance to both military and commercial air pilots," the secretary said in a letter to each of the Governors.

He suggested that Chambers of Commerce and business organizations unite in the campaign.

LAST RITES FOR HOME BREWERS ARE RAIDED

Many prominent men and women from various parts of New England attended funeral services today for Leonard J. Nardini, son of Amador P. Nardini, noted supplier of this city and Italy, held in the Church of Our Lady of Pompei, Florence street, South End.

Among the prominent Boston people present were former Mayor James M. Curley and former City Collector John Curley, Superintendent of Police Michael H. Crowley, James Fitzgerald, brother of former Mayor John F. Fitzgerald, and Edward T. P. Graham, Boston architect. Several priests also attended the services.

The old internal revenue act, however, provides that Federal agents may go before the United States Commission and get a search warrant for a private dwelling on possession of "prohibited cases," under which may be included the small of mash, possession of its containers on the premises, or abnormal traffic in the service.

and out of the suspected homes.

The Federal authorities here declare that moonshiners in and about Boston, knowing the Federal prohibition laws were drawn with a regard to the sanctity of the home, have been renting private residences to carry on their operations. These violators never sell any liquor on the premises, but take it elsewhere.

The newly discovered method of attack has on frightened the moonshiners and home brewers that already the price of these products has doubled in many sections of Boston.

AUGUST—the Month of Furniture Values

THOSE who are experienced in buying furniture for the home know the advantages of making their selections during August—the month of furniture values.

This is the time when manufacturers and retailers alike make every effort to sell goods quickly thus releasing their capital for reinvestment. This is the time when stores sell furniture on the closest possible margin to stimulate volume of sales.

Fortunately, it is also the time when your own interests are particularly centered on making your home more cosy, more beautiful and more complete for the approaching Fall and Winter season.

There are surely some articles of furniture which would enhance the attractiveness of "home," some needed piece or pieces that would make the home more restful, more "livable." Plan to purchase such articles now while you can get so much more for your investment. When you receive guests or give an evening's "Bridge," there is so much satisfaction in having comfortable conditions for everyone.

Good furniture encourages sociability and puts guests "at ease." Now that the indoor season approaches, think how refreshing it will be to re-arrange living room or bedroom adding something NEW! Its effect is tonic!

August Furniture Sales make it possible for you to practice "home economics" with profit. This is the month of all the year for making every dollar do full duty in furniture value.

BETTY ALDEN'S SOCIETY COMMENT

Edward H. Rudd Takes Isabel Boardman as Bride in Marblehead Ceremony

TODAY, IN THAT SMALL AND ancient church of St. Michael's, in Marblehead, the marriage of Miss Isabel Boardman and Edward Huntingford Rudd was solemnized, bringing into the mid-August social picture romantic interest.

An important company filled the church for the nuptials and then got over to the Eastern Yacht Club to extend their felicitations to the newlyweds. Miss Boardman was given in marriage by her father, Edwin A. Boardman, and her wedding train was attended entirely by girl relations, cousins on both sides of the family.

MRS. WILLIAM H. POTTER, Jr., Elvira Boardman, was chief attendant, and four cousins as bridesmaids—Miss Arnes Boardman, Miss Bertha Boardman, Miss Christiana Bartlett and Miss Elizabeth DeBlas—lent color with their crisp frocks and shady hats to the altar pageant that had as central motif the bride in misty white. A figure of slender height was the bride, wearing clear white satin and tulle, much the same as the simple tinery that the former Miss Elvira Boardman wore to the altar of Trinity Church when she became Mrs. Potter.

THE ATTENDANTS' FROCKS of soft coral chiffon over rose pink carried a dash of bright cherry ribbons, and for hats they wore large, shady, Summer affairs combining the three colors, coral, pink and cherry. Boardman, pure, is one of the Shore's noted recluses, and both daughters have no little skill at sailing small craft. Mr. Rudd, bridegroom, is a brother of the H. W. Dwight Rudd who married the former Miss Eugenia Gardner. Dwight Rudd was Edward Rudd's best man. Both young men saw war service with Uncle Sam's naval forces in the late upheaval.

EVER SINCE HER DEBUT year, some three seasons or so ago, Miss Marcia Hopkins has frequented the local picture but revels. Either she was at college, or studying abroad, or traveling, so that the pleasant home in Chestnut Hill, called by the Hopkines "Gladstone," saw her but rarely and then. Now she is away again to favorite old-world haunts, sailing on the steamship Mauretania out of New York today.

LIKE SO MANY SMART YOUNG girls, after the briefest of glimpses into the social whirl, she went in for a college career, preferring Vassar's learned halls to the paths of society. On this present journey to foreign parts she has for traveling companion her brother, Stanford, a Harvard man. Their parents are the Roland G. Hopkines, known rather for their place in the sun of higher accomplishment than for social aspirations and pursuits.

MRS. JOHN L. SALTONSTALL is booked for an ocean voyage with Europe as objective—her sailing date today. Mrs. Saltonstill is a charming young matron, with a fine estate in Tuxford

If you want them to have good feet... start now!

CHILDREN don't "out-grow" weak arches. If ankles turn, if heels run down, even Nature can't overcome the trouble without the aid of proper foot-wear. For each day the bones become less soft and each day the task of adjusting them to proper position by ligament and muscle is more difficult. As the feet form now, so they will be always.

Coward Arch Support Shoes permit quick run to grow naturally. They help in building strong foot muscles, strong ankles, strong legs. They play an important part in forming straight, sturdy bodies—a priceless asset all through life.

FRANCO-GERMAN TREATY IS FINALLY SIGNED

Berlin, Aug. 17 (A.P.)—The signature of a Franco-German commercial treaty today ended one of the thorniest pieces of negotiation ever conducted between the two countries. The negotiations began in October, 1924. The chief point of the new treaty, in the German view, is that France has agreed to the non-violence nation's principle. A great revival of trade between the two countries is hoped for here.

MRS. BUDLONG LOSES AGAIN IN DIVORCE

Providence, Aug. 17 (A.P.)—After a hearing which lasted more than two hours Judge Baker in Superior Court today denied the motion of Mrs. Jessie Margaret Budlong of Newport to dismiss the divorce petition brought against her by Milton J. Budlong on the ground of lack of jurisdiction.

Mrs. Budlong took an exception to the court's decision and will take the case to the supreme court.

Mrs. Budlong acted in a dual capacity of lawyer and witness. She asked several questions and answered them. She testified that Mr. Budlong did not request to be a resident of Newport until January, 1926, and therefore had not established a residence of two years before filing his suit for absolute divorce as is required by law. She contended that Mr. Budlong was a resident of New York at the time of the filing of the divorce petition. Mr. Budlong said he first spent his nighting of living in Rhode

STOCKHOLDERS OF NEW HAVEN IN UPROAR

New Haven, Aug. 17 (A.P.)—A special stockholders' meeting of the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad, called to act upon a proposed issue of 60,000 shares of 1 per cent. preferred stock, ran true to form here this afternoon, some stockholders creating an uproar that caused great excitement, and others supporting the railroad so strongly that the proposition to issue the stock was carried by a vote of 111,270 to 10,922 shares.

Hugh Bogert of Worcester Mass.; Benjamin Silverthorn of New Haven and Robert Hoff of New York were the opponents of the proposed issue. Mr. Bogert was opposed to "padding" in issuing the stock. Mr. Silverthorn declared "if the railroad had only taken my advice in running things the stock would have as high a value as New York Central today, and all our dividends paid into the bargain."

Mr. Hoff agreed with Mr. Bogert.

MISSING MR. JINKS LET COSGRAVE HOLD HIS JOB

London, Aug. 17 (A.P.)—The Daily correspondent of the Evening Star today makes a mystery of the failure of Deputy John Jinks to vote in yesterday's division, in which the Free State government was victorious only by the margin of the vote of the speaker of the House.

"Was Mr. John Jinks kidnapped?" is the caption over the Star's article. The correspondent says that Jinks, who is a member of Captain Redmond's National League party, supported the resolution to vote against the government, which was passed at a party caucus and was in his charge of mind.

Another attempt to hold up and rob a taxicab driver failed today, in the South End, when the driver, according to his story, ignored two revolvers and a blackjack and shouted an alarm.

John M. Jenkins, of No. 457 Essex Street, South Boston, the driver, told the police that he picked up two negroes in Central Square, Cambridge, and drove them to street, South End. There, he said, both produced guns while one also brandished a blackjack and ordered him to "cough up."

Story of a Girl Who Did Just What She Chose and Then Took Flight

Emily Duane, an "ultra modern," is about to marry Rodney Sayre, conservative, and son of an old New England family. Emily, parentless, is extremely wealthy, charming, high-spirited and impulsive.

Novely allures her and Hindu mysticism is her latest fad. In her enthusiasm she places a clause in her will bequeathing a large sum to Swami Lal Singh, her teacher.

Two days before the wedding Emily decides to have a rehearsal of the ceremony. Burton Lamb, best-man-to-be; Betty Bailey and Nell Harding, bridesmaids; Polly Pennington, matron of honor, and her husband, Jim; Pete Gibby, Betty Bailey's beau; Emily, Rodney and Emily's Aunt Judy are talking things over, and among the subject under discussion are the Reverend Mr. Garner, who is to officiate; "Spinks," an undertaker, whom Emily has designated as "wedding director," and Emily's bequest to the Hindu.

Lamb starts to berate Emily for making the bequest. She explains that the will is automatically cancelled when she becomes Rodney's wife.

The Swami overhears, and he is incensed, but says nothing. Emily then gets a phone message that Mrs. Kitty Laurence, a dear friend, has become a mother, and she impulsively drops everything to go to the hospital and kiss the new-born "for luck." She instructs Rodney to evade telling the others where she is.

Meanwhile Abel Collins, an old family friend of the Duane's, has joined the party.

"Spinks" is ready to start rehearsal and everyone is looking for Emily. Rodney follows instructions, tries to evade the issue, but finally tells that Emily has gone to the hospital.

It develops that Polly Pennington has left with Emily, though neither had told anyone of their plans. The wedding rehearsal continues without the bride or matron of honor, and without the groom, too, for Sayre refuses to budge until Emily returns.

Jim Pennington waits for his wife, but gets nervous after a while and phones the hospital.

Neither Emily or Polly have been there—
"Where's Emily?" ask Sayre—

CHAPTER IX.

THE situation seemed to grow more tense.

Rodney sat motionless on the sofa, declining further cigarettes that Nell offered.

Aunt Judy also relaxed into silence, and though Nell tried to keep up a run of gay chatter, it sounded hollow and lame, when people answered or even heeded it.

And, about eight o'clock, the search party returned.

"The girls here!" asked Jim Pennington, trying to speak lightly.

"No," Nell told him, while Sayre sat flat and brooded.

"Then I won't come in," Pennington said, "I'd better be over home. Maybe they're there by now."

"Telephone over and see," Aunt Judy suggested, but Jim shook his head.

"She isn't there," he said, gravely. "We passed the house on our way here, and there's no light in the living room. They may have come here, but I'll go back, and to there where Polly stayed up if she comes here, with Emily."

He tried to speak quietly, but his voice shook and his face was white and drawn.

Always of nervous temperament, he was easily seen that he was over on the verge of collapse.

"Say here a while, Penn," said Please then to Page 15, Column 3.
